Reviews:

"Woo hoo! Congratulations! I loved it! Had me glued to the screen! Very well done." -Eva Marie:

"I love this movie! It flows really nicely and paints a very real story of struggle, passion, triumph... The time-lapse of painting Jerry is great for Rock n Roll fans. And its a love story!" -Adam Christiansen

" 'Legends and Idols' was insightful and entertaining! It gave us a real glimpse into the trials and tribulations of an artist behind the scenes." -Joe Rosignolo

"I liked the kaleidoscopic art style because it makes you think of psychedelia. Plus, it just looks so cool lol." - Mr. Mathis

"I loved it. Willard, Mark, and Jon all seem like cool guys. I was engaged the entire time!" - Jake L., College Grad

"I just watched an amazing feature documentary 'Legends and Idols' #legendsandidols I am so uplifted by the artwork & talent in this film! The Rock stars inspiration from Willard's art was shown profoundly in their commissions of his work on their personal instruments. A heartfelt journey of the artist Willard & his manifestations through his ups & downs as he realizes his visions with those who believe in his dream." #legendsandidols #thebhfilmfest -Didi Minto Stanton

Three years in the making, 'Legends and Idols' is not only about Willard and his art, but also stands as a work of art by itself. The film includes musical performances, new original music, special effects, and a story presentation style that pushes the envelope of the genre.

Willard LEGENDS & IDOLS

Willard's unique style painting Rock 'n Roll portraits of deceased Rock Stars captured the attention of Gibson Guitar Co. They gave him 4 giant Les Paul guitar sculptures to paint for their annual Guitar Town event. Several of his painted guitars debuted at Hornburg Jaguar in West Hollywood, before showing in the Sunset Strip Music Festival. Two were placed at the center meridian of Sunset Blvd in Beverly Hills for years.

After displaying at the Sunset Strip Music festival with Gibson, one guitar called 'China Cat' of Jerry Garcia from the Grateful Dead went on display at the prestigious Andaz Hotel in West Hollywood, for a permanent installation. Another was displayed in the Andaz Hotel lobby. Willard has also built a large following online with his ongoing posts of new digital portraits for social media, along with other masterpieces.

Jon Anderson of YES launches his '1000 Hands' tour

Willard has been a big fan of Jon Anderson and his 'Yes' music for decades. When he finally got to meet Jon in person and show Jon his art, which was influenced by Jon's music, Jon was very impressed! Willard then painted Jon in his signature artistic style.

Jon is an original founder of Yes, achieving several chart topping hits in the 70's, 80's and 90's, along with a loyal fan base in the millions due to their unique, complex, progressive rock compositions. Jon is also a solo artist who continues to make records and tour to this day. (cont'd on next page).

LEGENDS & IDOLS

After carving out a large fan base with their original 'Prog Rock' style and chart toppers like Roundabout, Jon with Yes connected to a younger fan base while re-connecting to their loyal fans in the late 80's with new chart toppers such as 'Owner of a Lonely Heart'. The timeless classic launched a second wave of new Yes tours which continued for another 20 years!

In 2019 Jon was releasing his latest solo record, '1000 Hands' when Willard met him (in the film). It was his kickoff show for his world tour, held at the Saban Theatre in Beverly Hills. Jon continues to write and perform to this day.

Here are some highlights from Jon's career:

- 1972 Yes hits #1 with 'Roundabout' on their Fragile album.

LEGENDS & IDOLS

Mark Schulman drummer for PINK

Prior to joining 'Pink', Mark Schulman drummed for many top acts including Cher and Billy Idol. He has been in Pink for over 10 years and just finished a top selling world tour with Pink. Mark is also an author and a public speaker for corporate events where he talks about overcoming stage fright and performing like a rock star. When Willard met with Mark for the first time and showed Mark his art, Mark decided to give Willard a drum to paint. When it came back, Mark was so impressed (in the film) that he took the drum on his world tour with Pink, playing to sold out arenas everywhere. They were #1 that year! Mark then introduced Willard to Justin Derrico, the guitarist for Pink, and showed off a newly painted 'Bunnynose' guitar, as seen above right (from the film). Mark's enthusiasm over Willard's style lit up the movie, taking it to a whole new level. <https://www.markschulman.com/> <https://www.instagram.com/markyplanet/> <https://www.facebook.com/markyplanet>

Our Film Soundtrack

Willard's art has been greatly inspired by music, of which Yes, The Grateful Dead, and Emerson Lake and Palmer are some of his favorites.

We collected original music for the film that reflected that genre and were very surprised at the quality of music available to us, some of which was unreleased.

Jupiters Return and Gods of Eden are written by Paul Barrett and his band One World Government, which were recognized by the 2019 Grammy Awards competition for their new sound. My Heart by our composer Michael C Drebert, and You Are the Sun are potential Top 40 radio hits worthy of such a promotion.

Another new soundtrack song is Zades Playground by Mark Schulman of Pink. Music producers and distributors can request samples from mark@artistsih.net.

Quotes:

This is the American Dream rising out of Paint and iPhones.

"Willard's art makes me feel things." - John Felix

"The first time you see Willard's art... it catches your eye and brings you right in." - John Felix

"Yes!" - Jon Anderson

"He said 'I've got the money! I've got the money!'" - Willard

"There's a lot of struggles an artist has to go through. Look at the goal, don't look at the obstacle." - Willard

"He does BIG guitars... size matters!" - Mark Schulman

"Willard is an amazing artist! Fantastic stuff."

"It's some of the coolest stuff I've ever seen!" - Mark Schulman

"The art of Willard Snow is a moving enigma" - AC Alexander

"Dude! This is awesome man!" - Justin Derrico

"Great music creates the creative space." - Willard

"It was a familiar catch-22. The meeting went nowhere."

"It's really cool to meet your idols." - Willard

"It was a great show. Great musicians showed up!" — Irene

"I've seen a test screening of Willard's Legends and Idols film... and it looks awesome!" - Johnny Romeo

"Making this film has been an artistic journey into Willard Snow's world with his art, and a great experience, yet heartbreaking at times. Hopefully this film will inspire other artists around the globe. - Director
